W. F. ALDERMAN DIED LAST NIGHT AT THE AGE OF 78

Had Been Ill For Some Time And Death Was Not Unexpected—Funeral Sunday—For Years Member of G. F. Faculty—Eight Children Survive.

His many friends throughout the entire State will regret to learn of the death of Prof. W. F. Alderman, which occurred last evening at 10 o'clock at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Charles H. Ireland, 602 West Gaston street.

Prof. Alderman's condition has been considered critical for some days and his death was not unexpected. He was in his seventy-ninth year and for the past ten years had been in failing health. Eight children survive: S. L. W. F. and A. H. Alderman, of Greensboro; Jesse Alderman, of Richmond, Va.; Mrs. C. H. Ireland, Mrs. J. Norman Willis, Mrs. R. T. Willis, Mrs. Myra Albright, of Greensboro. Mrs. Alderman died in July, 1888.

The funeral will be held from West Market Street Methodist church, of which the deceased had for years been a most consistent member, Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, conducted by the pastor, E. K. McLarty. The interment will follow in Green Hill cemetery.

Prof. Alderman was born in New Hanover county on January 8, 1833. After arriving at his majority and completing his college course he came to Greensboro several years prior to the Civil War and was connected with Greensboro Female College. After the college closed down during the war he went to Laurinburg where he was for several years connected with a school. After Greensboro Female college reopened her doors in 1876 he returned and became a member of the college faculty, being professor of mathematics. This position he held for about 17 years, resigning eight or ten years ago on account of failing health. Since that time he had made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Ireland.

Prof. Alderman was one of the best-known men in Greensboro, though for several years he was not able to be much among his friends. He was a kindly disposition and he numbered his friends by his acquaintances. As a member of the faculty of G. F. C. he endeared himself to hundreds of students, all of whom will regret to learn of his death.

Norfolk, Va., June 9.—Because her sweetheart, who is master at arms on the naval receiving ship Franklin, couldn't obtain a leave of absence and come for her, Miss Ethel Broedy, of Alton, Ill., traveled a thousand miles to Norfolk and today was married to William Schnurre. The groom had made several efforts to get off in order to go for his bride and being unsuccessful his bride telegraphed that she would come to him. The pair had been sweethearts for several years.

GAILEY

Says Carnegie Did Not Compel Formation of The Steel Trust.

Special to Telegram.

Washington, June 9.—James Gailey, former vice president of the steel trust and an officer in the Carnegie Company for many years, today testified that Carnegie did not compel the formation of the steel trust by threats, nor did he try to throttle rival concerns. He also admitted that the steel companies conspired with the railroads as to the price of steel before the trust was organized.

FEARED DEATH LIST WILL REACH NEARLY FIVE THOUSAND

Fearful Havoc Wrought by Earthquake in Mexico Wednesday—Death List Growing.

Special to Telegram.

Mexico City, June 9.—The partial restoration to telegraphic communication throughout the republic shows the real extent of the havoc wrought by the earthquake Wednesday. Every dispatch received during the past 24 hours added to the horrors.

The government's most conservative estimate is that over 1,500 were killed and it is feared that when all sections are heard from the death list will total nearly 5,000.

GRAHAM GIRL SAYS STOKES WRECKED LIFE

Special to Telegram.

New York, June 9.—W. E. D. Stokes, who was badly wounded Wednesday by two girls, is decidedly improved. Lillian Graham, one of his assailants, says: "He wrecked my life. I didn't want to kill him, although the world would be better without him." She claims that Stokes discarded her and afterwards circulated slanderous stories and that she was simply trying to force a retraction. The girls' attorney says that Rich "Angel" offers unlimited aid for the defense.

NO CLUE TO MURDERER OF MRS. IDA HILL

The county authorities have so far been unable to find any clue that would throw any light on the murder of Mrs. Ida Hill at Jamestown Thursday morning. The officers are still working on the case but are at a loss as to a starting point in their investigations. The purse of Mrs. Hill was not taken by the murderers, as was at first thought, this being found among the bed clothing in Mrs. Hill's room late Thursday evening. So far as is known nothing was taken from the house.

HYMEN WAITS ON MERCY.

Wedding Delayed While Pair Play Good Samaritan.

Atlantic City, June 9.—As Truman W. Jones and Miss Helen M. Kenny were about to enter an automobile at the home of Miss Kenny's mother, No. 620 Mediterranean avenue, on their way to St. Nicholas Church, where they were to be married, they were startled by the appearance of Mrs. John Clark, who ran into the street from an adjoining house, carrying the limp forms of two young children, who had been overcome by gas. Forgetting for the moment their impending wedding and the waiting clergyman, Jones seized one of the children, while Miss Kenny aided the frantic mother in getting the other in the car.

Realizing that every moment was precious, the chauffeur, Charles Walters, started ahead at full speed, leaving the remaining members of the wedding party standing in amazement on the sidewalk. The run to the City Hospital was made in fast time, and both Jones and his prospective bride remained at the institution until assurance was given that their efforts had not been in vain and that the children would live. Then they proceeded to the church, where the delayed ceremony was performed by Rev. C. J. McFadden.

S. H. Howell, Not F. H. Powell.

In yesterday's Telegram it was stated that F. H. Powell was elected to the office of Master at Arms of Guilford Lodge, No. 60, Knights of Pythias. It was S. H. Howell who was elected to this office.

President Simon of Haiti, Who Attained the Office Through Revolution, Now Confronted by a Revolt.

General Antoine Simon, who proclaimed himself president of Haiti a few years ago after having led a revolt which culminated in President Nord Alexis being deposed, now has a revolution on his own hands. The uprising is serious, and the rebels are reported to be rapidly gaining strength. There have been several sharp engagements between federal troops and rebel forces, with the latter generally victorious. The war department has invited all citizens to enlist for service. The revolution at present is confined to the northern department of the country.

NORTH STATE CAPITAL NEWS

Special to Telegram.

Raleigh, June 9.—Ex-Governor Glenn is one of the petitioners for a pardon that Governor Kitchen has just granted to Charles Stines, Madison county, who was in 1905 sentenced to be hanged and then his sentence commuted to life imprisonment, the crime for which he was convicted being criminal assault. Governor Glenn granted the commutation and promised to grant the conditional pardon before he went out of office, it seems, but overlooked it. In his reasons for the pardon at this time Governor Kitchen recites that the prosecutrix was a woman of very bad character and that she afterwards told a reputable gentleman that her testimony was false. Later when she was prosecuted for perjury she was adjudged insane. The judge is dead, but the solicitor has written the governor repeatedly advocating a pardon for Stines. In fact, the governor declared, the entire citizenship of the county is urging that pardon be allowed. The pardon is conditional on good behavior.

An involuntary proceeding in bankruptcy was started in the Federal court there today against Parker & Chappell, of Nashville, N. C., saw mill and lumber men. The case comes up in the form of a petition from creditors that the company be adjusted bankrupt.

Governor Kitchen issues commissions to Dr. I. E. Green, Weldon, J. D. Davis, Elizabeth City and W. H. Breece, Jr., Brevard, as members of the board of trustees for the North Carolina Tuberculosis Sanatorium.

Dr. Jno. A. Ferrell, in charge of the campaign against hookworm in this State, says that the operation of the hospital tent for the treating hookworm patients is to start within a very short time now in one of the Southeastern counties. There will also be in the same section of the State a number of hookworm dispensaries provided in counties that will co-operate by bearing a small part of the expense. Among the first work of this sort is expected to begin in Pender county, the commissioners having already pledged financial aid. Examinations and free treatment are to be provided and especially strenuous campaigns for stamping out hookworm disease carried on.

BOOK MEN APPEAR BEFORE SUB-TEXT BOOK COMMISSION

Special to Telegram.

Raleigh, June 9.—The hearing of the book men on the merits of the books they offer for adoption is in full swing now before the State text book commission and sub-commission, the hours daily being 10 a. m. to 2 p. m. Saturdays excepted until all are heard. The commission has prescribed the order of subjects to be heard and the time allowed to representatives of each publisher on each text book subject, but leaves to the book men the settlement by lot of the order in which they appear before the commission.

An iron clad regulation is adopted that there shall be no personal communications upon the subjects of text books adoption and any member of the text book commission or sub-commission. Each bidder is to file with the commission an affidavit setting forth the names of the persons in this State representing the concern directly or indirectly. Proper communications in the form of briefs and testimonials from bidders can be communicated to the commission through the secretary of the sub-commission before July 1, thirteen copies to be submitted. The members of the commission and sub-commission are obligated not to express an opinion concerning the merits, demerits or adoption of any text book offered for adoption to any one other than to members of the commission and sub-commission until after the adoption has been made, this to be August 3.

The sub-text book commission has organized for its work by the election of N. W. Walker chairman and Z. V. Judd secretary. All representatives of book publishers are to meet with the sub-commission Saturday morning to decide by lot the order in which they shall appear before the commission to present the merits of their books offered for adoption.

Big Shipment of Ice on Yesterday

Yesterday eight cars of ice were shipped from Greensboro to adjacent cities and towns, four cars being shipped by one concern alone. This is rather an unusual amount to be shipped in one day, though the average is from four to six cars. Twenty thousand gallons of water were required to manufacture the ice shipped. In addition to this several car loads were used in Greensboro.

Will Meet Sunday.

A meeting of the Central Committee of the County Sunday School Association will be held Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the parlors of the McAdoo hotel. All members of the committee are asked to be present.

MRS. CARRIE NATION DIED LAST NIGHT FROM PARALYSIS

Noted Saloon Smasher Passed Away in Leavenworth, Kansas—67 Years Old.

Special to Telegram.

Leavenworth, Kansas, June 9.—Mrs. Carrie Nation died tonight of paralysis. She had been in a private sanitarium since January. Mrs. Nation was 67 years of age.

Mrs. Nation was known throughout the continent as a saloon smasher and for several years she was actively engaged in the work of agitating against saloons. She first made her debut as a saloon smasher in Kiowa, Kansas, in November, 1900, and gained real notoriety a month later when she went to Wichita and entered saloons, smashing mirrors and bottles with a hatchet. Within a few weeks five hundred saloons in Kansas had been closed as a result of her strenuous campaign. As the saloons were being operated illegally Mrs. Nation received only a light jail sentence, which only served to add to her fame.

After her celebrated Kansas raids Mrs. Nation lectured throughout the east, selling souvenir hatchets. She realized enough from the sale of the little hatchets to enable her to retire to her farm two years ago.

NEW OFFICERS OF GREENSBORO CHAPTER ORDER EASTERN STAR

Greensboro Chapter, No. 14, Order of Eastern Star held an important meeting in the lodge rooms last night.

The election of officers for the ensuing year brought together not a full attendance but certainly a representative one. The business of the lodge was transacted and officers were elected as follows:

Miss Blanche Johnson, Worthy Matron.
L. M. Clymer, Worthy Patron.
Mrs. C. W. Williams, Associate Matron.
Mrs. Lela Moorefield, Secretary.
Mrs. Ida J. Dildine, Treasurer.
Mrs. Susie Matthews, Conductress.
Miss Lelia Pitts, Associate Conductress.

The appointive officers will be installed on June 23. A motion was carried that the delegation to the State Chapter at Raleigh should offer Greensboro as the next place of meeting. Several prominent ladies will compose this delegation, which will leave for Raleigh Tuesday morning and return Monday night.

At the conclusion of the work of the lodge members, delightful refreshments of cream were served.

WILL PUSH CHARGE OF FAVORITISM

Congressman Webb to Present Petition From Railway Postal Clerks.

Washington, D. C., June 9.—What is believed may prove an important step toward investigating the grievances of the men employed in the railway postal service of the United States will be taken tomorrow when Congressman Webb, of North Carolina, will present to Postmaster-General Hitchcock a petition from more than forty postal clerks in which they allege that because of favoritism other clerks who are much lower down in point of service and whose promotion should not now be made, have been put to the front ahead of them.

The clerks who are now protesting have runs mostly in the Carolinas and elsewhere in the South, and they appealed to Mr. Webb to see that they have fair treatment.

It is not known what position the officials here will take, but Mr. Webb is prepared to push the matter for the clerks against whom discrimination is being shown, and to find out why such advancements should be irregularly made.

$15,000 DAMAGE SUIT IN PROGRESS IN SUPERIOR COURT

H. F. Starr Seeks to Recover Damages in Above Amount From Southern Bell Telephone Company—Contentions in The Case Set Forth.

All of yesterday in Superior court was taken up with the trial of the case of H. F. Starr vs. Southern Bell Telephone Company, in which the plaintiff is seeking to recover damages in the sum of $15,000 from the defendant on account of the alleged negligence of the company.

The taking of testimony will not be concluded before late this afternoon and the case will not go to the jury before Monday afternoon. The plaintiff is represented by W. P. Bynum and R. C. Strudwick, while Wilson and Ferguson and Brutus J. Clay, of Atlanta, Ga., appear for the defendant company.

In June, 1909, while seated in his home on Arlington street Mr. Starr was struck by lightning and rendered unconscious for several hours. In his complaint Mr. Starr alleges that the lightning struck a telephone wire running into his house, from which the telephone had been removed, and came into his house over the wire. On this account he holds that the company is liable for his injuries, both mental and physical. The company contends that the telephone wire, instead of carrying the lightning stroke into the house, was so constructed that it would have been carried in the opposite direction and, therefore, the wire was not a conductor of the lightning stroke, but that it came into the residence by another route and struck Mr. Starr. Besides rendering Mr. Starr unconscious no other damage was done by the stroke. The company contends, therefore, that it is not responsible for Mr. Starr's being struck by lightning.

CITY ASKED TO PUT OIL ON WEST MARKET

As yesterday afternoon's session of the commissioners a proposition to oil West Market street was put before the board. All the property owners, with one or two exceptions, have agreed to bear their proportionate part of the cost of the oil, the city to do the work, and the company furnishing the oil asked the city to bear half the expense of the oil used in front of the property of those who refused to come across.

Commissioner Brown was opposed to oiling the streets when there were so many streets badly in need of work. It was estimated that it would cost the city about $800 to oil the street, that is the labor would amount to this. As the oil will last but two years the cost of keeping up this one street would be about $400 per year. It was argued to offset Mr. Brown's contentions that the oil would preserve the street. No definite action regarding the matter was taken, but it is believed that the street will be oiled.

TWINS

Marry Twins And it is Puzzle to Distinguish Husbands or Wives.

Special to Telegram.

Austin, Texas, June 9.—Leland and Lorand Tabler, twins and business partners, today married Alma and Alta Moore, also twins, at the home of the brides' parents near San Marcos.

The bridegrooms resemble each other so closely that only close friends can tell them apart, while the members of the family of the brides can hardly tell Alma from Alta. At the ceremony each of the four were distinguished by wearing flowers of different colors. Two residences just alike and side by side await the homecoming of the two couples at Adiran.

The investigation of the Steel Trust
by Congress discloses the fact that the combination is still able to pay divi-

reason for placing the Trust in bank-

The fact that Colonel Roosevelt ap-

does not raise that combination in the estimation of the public. The Colonel has always been on good terms with the

"WOMEN TO RULE."

Gertrude Atherton Expects Them To Govern British Isles.

"If I should go back to the British Isles in 50 years, I'm convinced that I should find them governed by women," declared Mrs. Gertrude Atherton, the novelist, returning on the Amerika,
after several months abroad.

"Of course, the women will have to fight to attain such sovereignty," she added. "But I've met all the chief millitant suffragists in England and they are capable persons. Men have had to fight for all the have. Why shouldn't women expect the same difficulties?"

"Although many a woman may be a fool, many a man is not much better."
"Until today, when families are much reduced in size, women have lacked leisure and time to study and instruct themselves. As they gain more time for improvement—fewer hours in shop and factory, more labor-saving devices for
the home—they will progress accordingly
in capacity and power."

Some one ventured to ask Mrs. Atherton if certain graces of life, poetry
for instance, were not vanished in the dust kicked up by material progress.

"Poetry!" exclaimed Mrs. Atherton.
"This is not the age of poetry! People are engrossed with immensely more important matters. In the British Isles,
for example, there are such pressing problems as abolition of the House of Lords, a free Ireland, Socialism, as well
as votes for women."—Exchange.

A Born Lawyer.

A man who was not wise in the ways
of the world was the father of a bright boy. He spent much time debating how the lad's future was to be shaped and finally went for advice to the village
sage, who at one time had been a part of the selfish, striving world, and who left it scarred and shaken, but full of wisdom. And the sage told the perplexed father how to determine his son's future, and the father straightway went and did as he was advised. But the next day he sought out the sage in sore
perplexity:

"The whole plan went wrong," said he,
"and I am in a quandary what to do next."

"What did I advise you to do?" asked
the wise man.

"You told me to leave George in a room
with a work on theology, an apple and some small change! that if when I returned I found him reading the book,
he was to be made a clergyman! if eating the apple, a farmer; if interested in the money, a banker."

"Well?"

"But when I came back he was seated
on the book with the half devoured apple in his hand and the money in his pocket."

"That settles it," said the sage; "the lad is a born lawyer."

KING GEORGE'S CROWN.

It Is Gorgeous, But Queen Mary's is A Very Modest Affair.

King George, always frugal and unostentatious, has had his father's old crown altered to fit his own head, and has otherwise made no changes in it.
It shows no signs of wear, we understand, and such a crown never goes out of style. It is made of gold, and contains a sapphire which belonged to Edward the Confessor, a ruby which the Black Prince wore and a piece of the Cullinan diamond. The crown is valued at $7,500,000, and would probably bring more from some American millionaire if put up at auction at Christie's, but there is no present likelihood that it will ever be sold.

Queen Mary could scarcely be expected to wear her mother-in-law's crown. No matter how deep may be the respect a wife may have for her husband's mother, she is rarely willing to wear the old lady's things. Moreover, Queen Alexandra would have a word or two to say about that. One's crown is one's property, we hope, as long as one lives, no matter how little purely official significance may attach to it. The new Queen's crown is appropriately new as to shape
and metal, but it contains the historic Kohinoor diamond, and another bit on the Cullinan. It is, however, a comparatively cheap crown, worth only $3,750,- 000, but Queen Mary will always value
it for its associations, and sentiment
cannot be expressed in pecuniary terms.
Queen Mary's crown weighs a trifling more than an English top hat, a pound and a half, but King George's is a three and a half pounder, and he will probably only
wear it on the most formal occasions,
after the coronation. Copies of the Queen's crown, slightly reduced in size,
may be observed next winter in the par-
terre of the Metropolitan Opera House
on the heads of the supposedly uncrowned queens of American society. But King George's royal and Imperial headgear will not be imitated here in our time.—New York Times.

Rather Awkward.

An ingenious young man once took his fiancee to church in a small country
village, and when the time for "collection" came around, he rather ostentatiously displayed a silver dollar. Presuming upon their engagement, the young woman placed a restraining hand
upon the arm of her fiancée.

"Don't be so extravagant, George!"
she exclaimed.
"Oh, that's nothing," he replied. "I always make a point of giving a dollar
when I go to a strange church."
Just then the deacon came with the plate, and George dropped a coin. Everything seemed favorable, and the young man beamed with a sense of generosity. Then the minister gave out the notices for the week, and concluded
with the wholly unexpected announcement of the day's collection.

"The collection today," said he,
"amounted to 95 cents."

George hadn't much to say all the way to his fiancée's home.

Household Hints

Old matting may still be serviceable
by placing it under carpet.

When a sponge cake gets dry it is very nice cut in thin slices and toasted.

If boiled potatoes are done a little too soon, place towel over the saucepan
instead of the lid.

Turpentine is good for cleaning all
varnished furniture, and also to clean out musty galvanized and other iron sinks.

A teaspoonful of paraffin added to the water with which floors are washed
will greatly help in making them clean,
with a considerable saving of soap.

To peel a large quantity of onions
quickly and without any discomfort,
put them in a pan and pour a kettle of boiling water over them, then peel straight away.

For inside gas ovens, pots, pans, and
all kitchen utensils, a handful of common salt rubbed on with a damp cloth
will remove sand, dirt or grease, no matter of how long standing.

Sense in Short Sentences

After all, it is not what lies around,
but what is in us; not what we have,
but what we are that makes us truly happy.

A cheery fire kept glowing on the hearth of our own spirits will insure happiness.

Some rules work both ways, some one
way, others not at all.

The milk of human kindness often is Kind words have a power which seems to be beyond natural causes. It is as if they were some angel's song which had strayed from heaven to earth.

Consider, young man, that though the girl may think her too good for you
she may also think you too good for any other girl.

Your temper is worth more to you

THE PERJURY CASE IN UNITED STATES COURT.

The case of United States vs. Sidna Allen, is still occupying the time in federal court, more than thirty witnesses
having been examined for the government, while the defendant has a number of witnesses. The case will likely be concluded today. Allen is charged with perjury, the government alleging that he swore falsely while on the stand in his own behalf in a counterfeiting case
last June.

came evident that she could not recover
and she has been desperately ill from
that time until the day of her death.
Her leave-taking was most beautiful and impressive; for having assured her fond relatives and friends who frequented
her bedside that she was ready and anxious to go she fell asleep.

Miss Watson was a student in Elon College and completed the Junior year
in the literary department.

The funeral exercises were conducted
from her late residence by Rev. J. O.
Atkinson, D. D., her pastor, and Rev.
J. W. Wellons, her co-pastor. The exercises connected with the funeral were grand in their simplicity and most impressive. Miss Watson leaves father and mother, two sisters, and a brother,
besides a host of more distant relatives
and friends to sorrow over her departure, but rejoice at the same time over her gain.

The pall-bearers were Mr. Liggett Lincoln, and Mr. R. H. Barnes, of the city,
Prof. A. L. Lincoln, of Charlotte Court House, Va., Rev. A. T. Banks, McCullens, N. C., Mr. R. A. Campbell, Hagerstown, Md., Mr. E. T. Hines, McLeans-ville, N. C., Mr. Chas. C. Howell, Branford, Fla., and Prof. S. H. Atkinson, Meridian, Miss., all of whom were intimate friends and associates of the deceased. The remains were laid to rest in the Elon College Cemetery.

The family man was passing through the market when a sign attracted his attention. It read:

"Poultry Dressed in the Latest Style."
"What do you mean by poultry dressed in the latest style?" he asked the salesman.

"Why, are you blind?" said the dealer,
pointing to the plucked chickens with their legs tied. "Don't you see they are all bobbed?"

A Charming Woman

is one who is lovely in face, form, mind

LAW NOT NULLIFIED

United States Attorney's Say Criminal
Features of Act Still Stand.

Chicago, June 9.—United States at-the criminal features of the Sherman

anti-trust law.

The validity of the Sherman law as a penal enactment is affirmed, both in Hezekiah's Great Passover. 2 Chron. xxx.

Golden Text—Man looketh on the outward appearance, but the Lord looketh on the heart. 1 Sam. xvi:7.

(1.) Verses 1-5—Who were the nations of Israel and Judah composed of, and who were at this time their kings?

(2.) What was the passover and what was its origin?

(3.) What sort of a man religiously was Hezekiah?

(4.) What motive did Hezekiah have in proclaiming this passover and what did he expect to accomplish by it?

(5.) Why in that day, was it essential that this passover feast should be kept at Jerusalem?

(6.) Why is it that no particular place is now essential for God's people to worship acceptably?

(7.) If a nation neglects public worship, what may we reasonably expect will happen?

(8.) Verses 6-9—When the nation is in a decadent condition religiously, what should the leading Christians do?

(9.) What is the best medium to-day through which the churches should call the nation, as such, back to the worship of God?

(10.) What are the chief points contained in this circular letter of Hezekiah to the kingdom of Israel?

(11.) What effect does the worship of God by the nation have upon its prosperity?

(12.) Verses 10-12—Why was it that some "laughed them to scorn," and others accepted the invitation sent them by the king's messengers?

(13.) In religious matters a large section of the nation act contrary to their judgment; why is it?

(14.) Verses 13-14—Why can there be no acceptable worship of God, if the people hold on to what they know to be wrong?

(15.) Verses 15-20—Does God ever accept the worship of a people if those who conduct it are doing things that they are "ashamed" of? Why?

(16.) Why was ceremonial cleansing of so much importance in those days, and of no importance in these days?

(17.) What is the only essential thing which makes worship well pleasing to God?

(18.) Is it ever so in these days as in those, that the prayer of one man is efficacious for a multitude?

(19.) Verses 21-22—What would be the probable effect if the churches were now to have annual gatherings at central points, to last for seven or more days, after the type of the old time camp meeting?

(20.) Why should it be thought out of order in these days to have banquets, or dinners, or teas in connection with intense spiritual meetings?

(21.) This religious feast appears to have been a time of great outward demonstration and inward joy; why should we not plan for such meetings in all our churches? (This is one of the questions which may be answered in writing by members of the club.)

STABBED SON IN BACK.

Family Quarrel Caused by Drink Results in Fight in Dark.

Hagerstown, Md., June 9.—Benjamin Myers, a well-known resident of Hagerstown, was arrested at 2 o'clock this morning, charged with stabbing his son, Albert Myers, aged 19, in the back with a knife.

Myers, who had been drinking for several days, had a quarrel with his wife last night. He twisted her foot and she tried to help. Her son ran to the rescue. Myers put out lights and in the darkness young Myers was stabbed twice. One wound is an inch long and rather deep, directly over the lung.

Myers, partly dressed and in his bare feet, escaped out of the back window. He was seen later at the house of a friend, where he found refuge. At a hearing before Justice Hartle today Myers denied the stabbing. He was committed to jail for a further hearing.

Getting Ready for the Start.

We know of many who are all in trim for the start in the Bible contest, which commences next week. There are, however, many from whom we have not yet heard, and it is time they got into line. The Telegram is a prime necessity, and unless you order at once you may be left without a paper from which to cut the coupon certifying that the necessary reading has been done. There is only one coupon in a paper, so that a copy is essential for every competitor. If you have not already ordered the paper, you had better do so, and if you have, what better blessing could you confer upon some friend than by inducing him or her to take up this easy Bible study course and sending The Telegram during the term it covers? Think about this and "do it now." We take this opportunity of thanking the large number who have spoken words of appreciation for giving the people of Guilford county the opportunity of reading these "Suggestive Questions," and for the course of Bible study as previously outlined. A revival of Bible study promoted by the secular Press is causing all good people to rejoice. Use the attached coupon for yourself or a friend.

COULDN'T ANSWER QUESTION

Woman Asks Big Editor How to Tell a Bad Dog, Then Threatens to Sue Paper.

The sharp-featured little woman with the faded umbrella under her arm came boldly through the editorial rooms and halted at the first desk, where a big, shirt-sleeved man was drumming absently on a yellow pad and gazing over the roof tops.

"Whew!" breathed the big man in awe, as he sized up his visitor; "a suffragette, as I live."

But he was mistaken.

"Are you the editor that answers all the questions?" she demanded in a sharp, nasal voice.

"Er—yes, madam; all except who discovered the north pole."

"Well, I sent a message down here by mail last week and I have never heard from it. Do you think I am going to spend a penny every day for your paper and then not find what I am looking for?"

"Well—er, you see we have been a little rushed during the last few days, and maybe we overlooked it. What was the question you would like to have answered?"

"Why, it is a very important one. You see, we moved out in the country last month, and I would like to know how to tell a bad dog."

The big editor twitched his mustache reflectively.

"You would like to know how to tell a bad dog, eh?"

"That's what I'm here for."

"Well, madam, I'll tell you that question has really got my goat. In all these long years on earth I have never had anything to tell a bad dog. But I'll tell you confidentially, ma'am, if you really have anything important to tell him, I'd advise you to put him in a strong cage and whisper it to him through a 20-inch funnel. Good-day, ma'am. Looks something like snow off to the northwest."

And while the fiery little woman looked daggers and said she intended to sue the paper, the big editor calmly put on his hat and slipped out to lunch.—Judge.

W. H. Gibson Buys Old Fisher Home in Concord.

Concord, June 9.—One of the largest real estate deals made here in some time was consummated today when Mr. W. H. Gibson purchased the Fisher home on North Union street from the Fisher heirs for $10,000. The Fisher home is one of the handsomest residences in the city and its location is all that could be desired. For the past year a hotel known as the Marshall house has been conducted there. It is understood that Mr. Gibson has several associates in the deal and that the property will be divided.

STYLES OF SOME OF STAR BATTERS

Not All Hard Hitters Prove to Be Good Swatters.

CRAWFORD HAS MIGHTY SWING

Slugging Detroit Outfielder Hits Ball Harder Than Any of His Fellow Players—Wagner Shifts His Style. Methods of Cobb and Lajoie.

By TOMMY CLARK.

There are good hitters and hard hitters in baseball. Sometimes the words are synonymous; sometimes they are not. The good hitter is not necessarily a hard hitter, hard hitting being used in the sense of driving the ball away from the bat hard—hitting it with great force. There are good hitters who do not send the ball away hard, but who are proficient with the club because they are skillful and make many hits. The hard hitter, however, is likely to be a good hitter, because the forcible impact of the bat against the ball often drives the ball with such speed that it gets by the infielders.

Little men produce their share of hard hitters. As with big men, it may be because of a hard swing or may be because of an accurate swing that meets the ball square, and thus makes every ounce of exerted muscle tell.

Willie Keeler, the ex-big leaguer and now a member of the Toronto team of the Eastern league, is an example of a player who is a good hitter rather than a hard hitter. He beats out a good many infield grounders with his speed in getting to first base, and he taps many safe hits to unguarded spots. Fred Tenney of the Bostonians is another who makes fewer long hits "in between," just over the infielders and just inside the outfielders. George Stone, formerly of the St. Louis Americans and now a member of the Milwaukee team, is a ferocious hitter. He swings hard, and when he meets the ball flush it fairly hums.

"Old Honus" Wagner of the Pittsburghs is a fine batsman and one of those free hitters who connect with any kind of a ball. He is another of whom it may be said that he sometimes hits a ball too hard for distance. This naturally robs it of some of its speed and converts into a one base hit what would have been a two bagger or better had the ball gone up a trifle as it left the bat. But the Dutchman lands so hard that what would be an out for a ball struck with less force, but in precisely the same way, becomes a base hit with him.

Wagner's hard hitting prowess is further shown by the way his curving fly balls carry when there is any sort of solidity to the hit. A three-quarter impact, the ball being struck below the middle, would be an ordinary outfield fly and a sure out if made by anybody putting less force in the blow than does the burly Teuton. Wagner, however, does not always take a long swing. He can shift his style and chop a ball, but he generally gets force and therefore makes more hits off balls hit on the handle than most players—that is, a ball hit on the handle by him is more likely to go safe than if made by a less robust slammer.

Ty Cobb of Detroit hugs the plate fairly close and stoops just a trifle. He doesn't take a big swing at the ball, but puts all his strength into the effort. Like all good hitters, he uses his shoulders in the swing and never pulls away from the plate. Cobb's great speed helps his batting average wonderfully. It's not so much in the hits he beats out, but simply because when he's at the plate the opposing team is all on edge, knowing that the ball must be handled fast and clean in order to get the southerner. The result is that Cobb gets a hit on many a ball that would have been handled perfectly had not the opposition been overanxious.

There is no player more graceful at the plate than "Wahoo Sam" Crawford, Cobb's side partner. His is an air of confidence from the time he leaves the bench until he assumes his position at the plate. Crawford uses a big, heavy bat, which he poises on his shoulder in such a manner that it always makes the opposing pitcher feel better when he is out of the way. Unlike Cobb, he stands at the plate with his feet wide apart instead of close together. Crawford takes a mighty swing at the ball and generally hits it on a line and far away. It's not exaggerating in the least to say that Crawford goes out on more hard hit balls than any other player in the major leagues. With men on the bases Crawford is very dangerous.

Lajoie of Cleveland hits the ball as hard as Crawford; but, unlike the Tiger slugger, he doesn't take a big swing. Lajoie doesn't swing at the ball like Crawford or chop at it like Keeler; he's just the happy medium of these two styles. Into his swing he puts all the strength of his powerful physique, and his drives generally cling close to the ground or go to the outfield on a dead line.

One of the hardest hitters in the National league is Sherwood Magee of the Philadelphia. His bat comes around with a powerful sweep, but with his body under control. He is a useful distance hitter and makes the ball travel even when his bat gets only a slice of it.

MANAGER CLARK GRIFFITH ESTABLISHES NEW KICKING RECORD.

Manager Griffith of Cincinnati established a new kicking record recently when he was canned from the playing field for kicking on a decision that had never been made. Tom Downey was on second in the eighth inning when Miner Brown uncorked a wild pitch. The ball glanced off Catcher Archer's foot, hit the stand and then bounced into the the rooters' row. Downey scored on the mad toss and then for some reason turned and went back toward third base. Griffith charged O'Day like an infuriated bull.

"Why did you send Downey back to third?" he demanded. O'Day simply stared at him in open mouthed wonder, while Griffith frothed a little more.

"I didn't send him back to third," O'Day said finally, "and I guess you had better chase yourself from the lot for getting too prominent without cause." Griffith sadly walked from the field mildly irritated and wondering why the dickens Downey had gone to third anyhow.

WHY THE PHILLIES SLUMPED

Rumors Say Manager Doolin and President Fogel Have Had Run-in.

Unless President Fogel permits Manager Doolin to manage the Phillies without interference the club is likely to slide to the bottom of the heap. It is learned from a reliable source that the slump of the Phillies during the past few weeks is due to a row between Fogel and Doolin. The president of the club is accusing some of the players of doing too much joy riding and has charged Manager Doolin with having been looking at the moon through a wineglass. Fogel wants the men fined for the most trivial offense, but Doolin refuses to sanction fines. The result is that the players do not know just where they are at and are not putting their heart in the work. Unless Mr. Fogel refrains from interfering with the active playing department there is likely to be mutiny. Manager Doolin says the men are behaving themselves and he will not stand for any interference.

First Round Unlucky One For Murphy. Tommy Murphy was knocked out twice during his career and, strange to relate, in about the same time on each occasion. At Philadelphia Oct. 18, 1905, Terry McGovern tumbled over the former Harlemite in the first round with one clean punch. Recently in New York "Knockout" Brown felled Murphy to sleep in exactly forty seconds and with five punches.

FORD'S CURVE COLLECTION.

New York American's Star Pitcher Has Fourteen Ways of Using Delivery.

Russell Ford, the famous New York pitcher, throws fourteen different kinds of balls to batters, as follows:

No. 1 Spitter—Breaks straight down either slow or fast.

No. 2 Splitter—Breaks "in" for right hand batters.

No. 3 Splitter—Breaks "out" for left hand batters.

No. 4 Curve—Starts straight, but curves near plate.

Slow Curve—Much like Joe McGinnity's "Old Sal."

Slider—Glides fast, with little rotation.

Crossfire—Same as Cy Young's "one best bet."

Inshoot—Approaches batter shooting inward.

Fast Ball—Thrown straight with terrific force.

Slow Ball—Mixed in with other deliveries.

Dope Ball—Served slow to batter without rotating.

Drop Ball—Not unlike Mathewson's fadeaway.

Raise Ball—Thrown underhand with great speed.

Hop Ball—Breaks up and jumps near plate.

American Girl Is Learning to Run Aeroplane; Seeks License

Photos copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

MISS HARRIET QUIMBY, a young woman from California who has been doing newspaper work in New York, has decided to learn to manage an aeroplane, and she is taking lessons in flying at Moisant's school at Mineola, N. Y. She expresses herself as highly pleased with her experience as far as she's gone and says that she thinks flying is safer than riding at high speed in an automobile. Like most other persons, she enjoys the sensation of rapid motion, and she says this delight can be had in its most fascinating form while in the air. Miss Quimby's experiences have not been altogether pleasant, as she has had a part in two accidents, neither of which resulted seriously to her, though two Moisant monoplanes were smashed. Miss Quimby was riding as a passenger when a bad landing was made, and she was thrown from her seat. She escaped with a few bruises. A day or two later while running the machine along the ground she smashed one wheel when the craft careened. In the pictures above Miss Quimby is shown in her fetching aviation costume and when seated in the driver's place on a monoplane.

Mexico City, June 9.—The Chinese MASSACRED 303 CHINESE.

Legation Reports to Peking of Bloody Raid on Mexican City.

Legation here has sent a partial report to Peking of the massacre of Chinese in Torreon by Maderistas. There were about 500 Chinese in the Torreon colony, of which 303 were massacred when the revolutionists took that city on May 15. According to the legation there has been much anti-Chinese feeling in Torreon for a long time because of the prosperity of the Chinese.

On May 12 the raiders stole everything and killed 28 men at one ranch and 29 at the other. When they took Torreon they attacked the laundries and killed all the Chinese there; attacked a Chinese store, looted it and killed 18; sacked another store, where they killed 25, and broke into the Chinese bank, stole all the money, destroyed all the records and murdered the two managers and 20 employees, only one escaping.

Later the revolutionists sacked a silk store and put all there to the knife; pillaged a restaurant, killing the proprietors and 14 waiters and cooks; destroyed all Chinese flags they could find and killed the father of some Mexican women who tried to save a Chinaman. The Chinese Empire will put in a huge bill for the massacre and probably will ask the United States to collect it.

COWS EAT RAILROAD SPIKES

Lehigh county (Pennsylvania) cows seem to have developed a curious appetite, which cannot be accounted for, in view of the quantities of juicy fodder and ensilage on hand to feed them. At about the same time recently a cow owned by John Gruffy of Watsenber township and one belonging to P. M. Bastian of Westcoesville, six miles apart, died suddenly. Post-mortems showed that each had swallowed a railroad spike.

COTTON LETTER TO J. E. LATHAM.

New Orleans, June 9.—The weather map shows a generally fair belt except a few cloudy spots in the Gulf Coast Districts. No rain, continued high temperatures in the central and Western belt, but cooler in the Atlantic and some light showers along the coast there. Indications favor stationary conditions and no relief by general rains so far except for the lower half of Florida, where a storm is centered. There should be cloudy weather in northwest Texas and western Oklahoma.

Our market opened about 8 higher on new crops and a demand by shorts to cover ran October up to 13.46. We are near one of those moments when a general change in crop and price views by the trade causes an important change in the market. Shorts and consumers still cling to the bumper crop idea, but if there is no relief in the next few days by general rain in the belt, this idea will be abandoned and the result will be a large demand for new crop contracts. Official records show 11 stations in Texas with temperatures of 100 to 104 degrees, 8 in Louisiana, 100 to 102.—The temperature average for Oklahoma was 102 degrees.
The market is quiet, but firm around 13.43 for October. The trade expects bearish comparisons of mill takings owing to concerted stoppage in Lancashire this week, but takings will be full next week.

MASONIC AND EASTERN STAR HOME, GREENSBORO

Description of Floor Plans of Building to be Used by Aged And Indigent Masons, And Their Wives, of North Carolina.

On Monday the building committee of the Masonic and Eastern Star Home, which will be located just west of Lindley Park, a cut of which is shown above, will hold a meeting here for the purpose of ratifying and signing the contracts for the construction of the building. Ange & Company have the contract for the building and Hunt Bros. have the contract for the plumbing.

L. M. Clymer, secretary of the building committee, stated to a reporter last night that he did not know just when the work would begin as the funds were not yet in hand. The local Masons, in addition to giving the site for the building, subscribed $5,000 towards the cost of the building in order to have it located in Greensboro and the larger amount of the money will have to be secured before the actual construction can be commenced.

Mr. Clymer has prepared a sketch of the building plans and had it printed in circular form for the purpose of distributing at the meeting of the Grand Chapter Order of Eastern Star, which will be held in Raleigh next week. At the top of the circular is a picture of the building as shown by the plans, the circular reading as follows:

"The above cut gives you an idea of what your building committee has been doing. Herewith I give you a sketch of the inside plans of same. The structure, you will see is the old Colonial Home style.

"The basement is nine feet in the clear, 31 feet wide and 80 feet long, giving us coal room, boiler, storage and laundry room with equipments, steps from the front hall and back side. On first floor two office rooms, four double bed rooms and two large rooms for such purposes as may be needed, hospital or assembly hall; the dining room, 31 feet by 31 feet, kitchen and pantry, bath room on both sides of the main hall with closets, lavatory and slop sinks, making it convenient to all rooms, landing on back steps, and fire doors between the different sections on each floor for fire protection. Main steps starting from the front and landing on each side on second floor leaving a large lobby for indoor gatherings.

"On second floor we have same size as

HORSE ATTACKS MAN.

Rider Narrowly Escapes Terrible Injury by Infuriated Beast.

Harrisonburg, Va., June 9.—While riding horseback and leading a blooded stallion, D. A. Brock, of Lacey Spring, was suddenly attacked by the horse, which weighs 1,800 pounds, and possesses strength of a lion. The horse bit at Mr. Brock, missing his leg, but cutting his saddle into pieces. As the man brought the whip down upon the beast it made another attack, this time its teeth going through his trousers leg and missing his flesh by a fraction of an inch.

Unable to escape, Mr. Brock jumped from the saddle and grabbed the stallion by the bridle just as the two animals joined in combat. Holding the bridle with a death grip, the man was hurled into the air and then slammed to the ground as the animal raved and snorted. Walter and Frank Rhodes happened to be passing, and managed to beat off the infuriated animal, thus saving the life of Mr. Brock.

After subduing the mad horses Mr. Brock, with great nerve, remounted and continued to the pasture.
Later he found that the stallion had crushed a big knife in his pocket and had bitten a 5-cent piece in twain.

Robbers Make Good Haul In E. W. Stewart's Office.

A bold robbery was successfully carried through Thursday night when thieves entered the office of E. W. Stewart, located in the Benbow building, and opened a desk and secured $91 in cash and a small gold watch. The money stolen was the proceeds from the ballgame of the day before and had been locked in the desk for keeping over night. There is no clue to the thief or thieves.

His Hand Mashed.

Robert Hutcherson, the young son of J. A. Hutcherson, a resident of the western vicinity of the city, while operating a machine at the Table and Mantle factory, had his right hand badly crushed Thursday. Two fingers were broken in the accident and the entire hand was very painfully mangled.

A. & M. Summer School.

The large and increasing attendance of the summer school this year, even at its beginning, is assurance to the management that the securing of a faculty, composed of thirty or more expert teachers, is fully appreciated and justified.

In addition to the class work, a strong and interesting lecture course has been arranged. Some of the best speakers and lecturers have been secured. Yesterday morning, at nine o'clock Prof. Schaub, of the U. S. department of agriculture, who is doing special work in connection with the State department of agriculture in organizing the Boys' Corn Club, made a very forceful and interesting address, on "How to organize the corn clubs."

Last night at 8:30, the teachers and friends listened to a very able, helpful and inspiring lecture on "The Professional Spirit" delivered by Dr. J. L. Mann, superintendent of the city graded schools. In the course of his lecture, Dr. Mann emphasized the fact that "The professional spirit is the feeling of an urgency produced by an ideal in order that the ideal itself may be produced." He said that the professional spirit would determine whether work, no matter of what nature, would be drudgery or joy.

SCENT NEW GUINNESS CASE.

Police Search Woman's Garden for Traces of Missing Men.

Norfolk, Va., June 9.—Expecting to uncover human skeletons in the onion patch near the home of Mrs. Minnie Murdock, of Mason's Creek, who is in jail accused of murdering Harry O. Davis, or Harry Harding, whose battered remains were dug from a hole in her garden on Monday, men today dug into the ground around her home until the work was interfered with both by the weather and curious throngs.

It will be resumed tomorrow and the authorities seem certain they will find evidence showing Mrs. Murdock is a second Belle Guinness. It is believed that at least three men whose disappearance have never been solved met their fate around Mason's Creek. John Draper, who is said to have hailed from Kansas, is one of the men said to have been seen in the woman's company, but who never has been seen since. The police also believe that two other men, one of them a G. A. R. veteran from Indiana, and perhaps many others who corresponded with the woman through matrimonial bureaus, visited her at her out-of-the-way and lonely home near the creek.

The authorities believe that Harry Davis was dead at least five days before his body was found. A big wound in his head another in his side showed that he had been killed with an axe. The weapon was found, but it was clean, excepting a doubtful stain, which the authorities will have analyzed. In a search of the place many letters of introduction from matrimonial agencies and from prospective husbands telling of the financial and physical qualifications have been found.

No Municipal Court Session Yesterday

There was no docket in Municipal court yesterday morning. Evidently, the sight of their comrades laboring on the streets, heavily shackled and closely guarded, is having a deterrent effect, temporarily, at least, upon the bad negroes in the vicinity.

However, two converts were added to the calaboose yesterday. N. B. Dicks, a white and disorderly drunk, the second in the past month and Dock Prower a thief, will appear as defendants this morning and explain the whys and wherefores of their meanness.

Their Sister Dead.

Messrs. S. and A. Schiffman were yesterday informed of the death of their sister, Mrs. Bena Goldstone, at her home in Cincinnati, Ohio, about 8 o'clock Thursday evening. The funeral will be held today. The places of business of Messrs. Schiffman were closed yesterday in respect for their deceased sister.

Children's Day at Moriah.

The public is cordially invited to attend the Children's Day exercises which will be held Sunday afternoon at three o'clock in Moriah M. P. church southeast of the city. An interesting program is promised.

His Brother's Wife Dead.

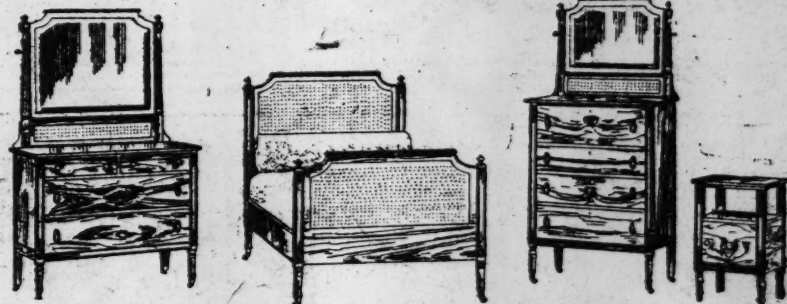

W. R. Denny, one of the city letter carriers, left the city yesterday for Philadelphia to attend the funeral of his brother's wife, Mrs. C. W. Denny. He was notified of the death yesterday, as it occurred at 5 o'clock in the morning. The mother is survived by three children. The husband of the deceased is well-known in Guilford county and has many friends in Greensboro.

A Welcome Change

Smoke curling up from the farmhouse chimney as the men are coming in from the fields, gives a pretty suggestion of a good supper and a comfortable home. But it also means a hot, tired woman, working hard over a blazing fire.

Your wife can escape this with a New Perfection Oil Cook-stove.

A New Perfection keeps a kitchen many degrees cooler than any other range, yet it does all a coal or wood range can do. It saves time, labor and fuel. No wood to cut; no coal to carry; no ashes; no soot. With the New Perfection oven it is the best cooking device you can find anywhere.

New Perfection
Oil Cook-stove

Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners, with long, turquoise blue enameled chimneys. Hand-somely finished throughout. The 2- and 3-burner stoves can be had with or without a cabinet top, which is fitted with drop shelves, towel racks, etc.

Patriotism

The stomach is a larger factor in "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness" than most people are aware. Patriotism can withstand hunger but not dyspepsia. The confirmed dyspeptic "is fit for treason, stratagems and spoils." The man who goes to the front for his country with a weak stomach will be a weak soldier and a fault finder.

A sound stomach makes for good citizenship as well as for health and happiness.

Diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition are promptly and permanently cured by the use of

DR. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY. It builds up the body with sound flesh and solid muscle.

The dealer who offers a substitute for the "Discovery" is only seeking to make the little more profit realized on the sale of less meritorious preparations.

PICKING RUNNING MATE FOR PRESIDENT TAFT

Stimson is The Latest Selection, But Most of The Republican Leaders Have Been "Mentioned"—Bryan Still Looms Large in Democratic Ranks.

Special to The Telegram.

Washington, June 9.—The naming of prominent Republicans as running mates for Mr. Taft goes merrily on. Hardly a day passes that the wise men of the capital do not pick some new name as the candidate for Vice President. The latest name I have heard is that of Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson. A list of the names mentioned would read like a roster of Republican statesmen and the supply is by no means exhausted.

It looks very much as though the main fight at the Republican National Convention will be over the Vice Presidency, and perhaps the platform. While it is a year or more before the convention the renomination of Mr. Taft seems certain. Though the radical insurgents may make an attempt to defeat him, no careful student of American politics believes now there is the least chance for the success of such a fight.

There is likely to be a pretty fight over the platform and the result of this will have a strong influence on the Vice Presidential nomination.

The vice-president makers are now figuring on getting a strong progressive to go on the ticket as Mr. Taft's running mate and hedging on the platform so that the old liners will not be absolutely alienated. It is going to take some mighty pretty figuring to balance the ticket and platform so as to prevent a split at the polls.

Whenever William Jennings Bryan comes to town there is a recrudescence of the talk of him for the Democratic nomination. On his last visit here Mr. Bryan said, "I am not a candidate and will not be. Leave me out of it."

This would seem to be emphatic and definite enough but despite it all they will not leave Mr. Bryan out of it. In fact whenever a Democratic prophet starts into prophesy the formula is something like this "—will surely be the nominee if Bryan doesn't step in and take it."

There are lots of men high in Democratic councils who do not like Mr. Bryan and these even admit privately at least that he is likely to be almost if not quite as potent a figure in the next Democratic convention as he was in the last.

The semi-centennial of the Battle of Bull Run will be celebrated in a way to make any patriotic American go a long way to see.

The first battle of the civil war was fought July 21, 1861, as every school boy knows. On July 21 this year there will be a military jubilee on the historic battle field which gave his non-de-guerre to one of the world's greatest fighting men, "Stonewall" Jackson, which will warm the heart of every American.

Veterans of both great armies, including the Manassas Picket Post, Union Veterans, and the Gen. Ewell Camp of Confederate Veterans, will have charge of the semi-centennial celebration, together with the officers of both town and county, and the governor and other state officers will also take an active part.

A committee of one hundred, representing the veterans of both sides, has sent out a general invitation to all to attend this celebration, and special attention is called to Leviticus, chapter 25, verses 9 and 10.

It is hoped by those interested to have President Taft present upon the auspicious occasion, and there will be present a number of well-known speakers from both great armies. Special music will be a feature of the program. The citizens of Manassas and the county of Prince William, Va., as well as many of the patriotic people throughout the country, are much interested in a bill before Congress providing for the protection of monuments already erected on the battlefields of Bull Run and any other monuments that may be erected in that historic locality. Measures proposing the purchase of the lands surrounding these monuments, and embracing the battlefields of the engagements known in history as the first and second Bull Run, are pending in both houses of Congress.

An extremely rocky road, leading dangerously close to that institution known as the Senate's treaty graveyard, is being prepared for President Taft's general arbitration agreements with Great Britain and other nations.

Not only is an avalanche of protests against the ratification of the treaty rolling down upon Senators, but diligent inquiry fails to locate any Senator or group of Senators who will make a determined fight for the adoption of the document. The onslaught of objections has found Senators as a rule either totally ignorant of the terms of the treaty, as given out in a digest by Secretary Knox, or already prejudiced against treaties in general, on the ground that they are merely gentlemen's agreements, and lightly swept aside when it becomes time to fight.

The remarkable volume of protests against the treaty which is being filed daily with the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations seems in large measure inspired by Irish-American sentiment, which is distinctly averse to any trucking to Great Britain.

"The people of Utah have cause to be proud of the records of the two Senators from that State," said F. T. Moore, of Ogden. "Senator Smoot has developed into one of the most active and energetic members of the committee on finance, and his counsel is sought by every Republican member of that body. While not so eloquent on the floor, as some of the leaders of the party, Mr. Smoot has demonstrated that he knows the tariff proposition through all of its schedules, and his industry and close attention to the questions pending before the finance committee are recognized by every man who attends the hearings that are now in progress."

"Senator Sutherland, his colleague, has astonished his friends in Utah, as well as many of those in the Senate, by his wonderful knowledge of the Constitution. It is doubtful if there is a Senator who has a more thorough knowledge of the intricacies of that document than has Senator Sutherland. This fact is recognized by every senator on the floor, and it seems to be the general impression, so far as I have been able to gather, that the only Senator whose knowledge of constitutional law in any way approaches that of Senator Sutherland is Mr. Rayner, of Maryland."

"There is an unmistakable feeling rapidly developing all over the country," said William Grimes, of Coos Bay, Oregon, "among the rank and file of Republicans, repudiating the independent or insurgent element of the party in their opposition to the policies of the administration as advocated by President Taft. I have, during the past two months, traveled extensively over the Northwest, Pacific coast and Southwest and find this sentiment everywhere I go. That the conservative, safe and sane policies of President Taft and the loyal members of his party who are supporting him are approved and endorsed, there can be no doubt. The opponents of Taft will find on their return to their districts that their constituents will repudiate their action in opposing the administration."

"I'm surprised to find so many young men idle in the East. There is a golden opportunity for them in the great West to make names and fortunes for themselves and aid in the development of a vast country."

"The great territory West of the Mississippi River is systematically building beautiful cities and roads that far surpass anything in the East."

Sash at Side of Skirt.

A strong feature in many of the models is the use of the sash suspended in oriental fashion at one side of the skirt. This appears on many of the simple dresses and tailored costumes. It is also seen on tailored suits.

The idea is continued from last season, as there were two or more models shown then holding this idea, notably a navy blue serge dress with a sash made from mauve and cardinal silk.

Many a man's clothes are like his actions; they speak louder than words.

250,000 PUDDINGS FURNISHED

London Manufacturer Made That Many to Meet the Demands of the Christmas Spirit.

The manufacture of plum pudding in England is mainly confined to London and is carried on by all the principal bakeries, delicatessens and other establishments. The industry was greatly boomed by the Boer war.

In the opening days of that struggle the Yuletide season increased the natural solicitude for the fathers and sons and husbands in far away Africa, and the plum pudding was requisitioned in large quantities to express the feeling at home and carry at least a spark of Christmas cheer to enliven the soldiers' camp.

Thousands of pounds of plum pudding were sent out, but the demand was far in excess of the supply, a fact which gave greater urgency to the demand and by concentrating general interest in the pudding added immensely to its popularity, and especially as the soldier called loudly for more. The result is that today the bulk of plum pudding consumed in the United Kingdom is supplied by public purveyors and hundreds of thousands of pounds are shipped abroad. Manufacturers begin active operations as soon as the new crops of raisins, currants and other required fruits appear in September. All the ingredients of plum pudding, which do not include plums, are prepared and manipulated by elaborate and expensive machinery. Currants are washed and stems removed, raisins are stoned, nuts are shelled and ground, oranges and lemons are peeled, the peel candied and cut up, eggs are beaten and all other ingredients prepared by machinery.

Exclusive of milk and rum the ingredients used by a single manufacturer in supplying plum pudding to meet the demands of the Christmas season of 1910 aggregated 620,144 pounds, the number of puddings furnished aggregating 250,000. There are three or four London manufacturers, says Daily Consular and Trade Reports, each of whose output perhaps equaled that described, and there are quite a large number of smaller establishments in which plum pudding was supplied for home and foreign consumption.

The pudding is put up in packages weighing one to five pounds each and securely packed to insure preservation and safe transportation. Properly prepared and packed the plum pudding of England, with ordinary care on the part of the housewife, will retain its virtues for a year or more.

American Aviating Girl.

The aviating girl is quite an established feature of American life. She has superseded the old-fashioned matinee girl, but is very much more impassioned. Her one dream is that she may, at some time or another, be dashed to death with her beagled idol. If you want to find her when next you attend an aviation meeting in America, do not look for her on the lawn or in the grand stand. You will not even find her in the clubhouse. Cross over to the hangars—that is the place for the aviating girl. Beautifully dressed, she will sit for hour after hour on an old box, or a log of wood, or an upturned bucket, just near the doorway of the hangar. You may stare at her, photograph her, do what you will—she will not move. The spirit of martyrdom is as strong within her as in the Indian fakir. By and by, later in the day, it is faintly possible that "he" may let her creep on to the machine and go for a ride. That is why she is waiting, waiting, waiting.

CANARY THAT REALLY TALKS

At the National Cage Bird Show held recently at the Crystal Palace in London, the exhibits numbered 3,500. The bird which attracted the most attention was a talking canary, the property of Mrs. Ives of Thundersley, Essex. It is claimed that this wonderful bird can sing, talk and whistle, and it is said to be fond of the phrases, "My dear boy," "Joey, you are a pretty boy," "Kiss your missus," and "Joey, you are a dear beauty." It was reported some years ago that Queen Alexandra had a canary that talked, but this is the first time on record that any talking canary has been entered in a bird show.

THUMB SCREW FOR BEAUTIES

China is not the only country where the fair sex voluntarily undergo mild forms of torture in order to bring themselves into conformity with conventional ideas of beauty. In America and Europe contrivances much like the ancient thumb screws are used to give the desired filbert shape to the nails on women's hands and while they inflict some suffering, they are said to be effective.

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN IS SOLD.

Deal, Long Rumored Has Been Definitely Announced—$3,500,000 is Paid. New York, June 9.—Madison Square Garden, known as New York's biggest indoor arena, is to go away to a commercial building twenty-five stories high. The sale of the property to a syndicate, long rumored, was definitely announced today. The price paid is said to be $3,500,000.

When the structure comes down the only place in New York suitable for exhibitions on a large scale will be removed. With it will descend the famous statue of Diana on the tower and the garden, which was the scene of the killing of Stanford White by Harry Thaw. White was the architect of the building.

WALL STREET WILL BE DULL DURING SUMMER

Captains of Finance Away For The Season—
Will Shortly Begin Doing Legally The Things
They Have Been Doing Illegally.

Special to The Telegram.

By PRESTON C. ADAMS.

New York, June 10.—There is not likely to be a great deal doing in Wall Street for the next few weeks. Financiers and hot weather do not mix well
in the Street and the market leaders
have pretty well gotten things in shape
so that nothing very sensational will break while they are away trying to keep cool and get themselves in shape
for the Fall campaign.

Really there is nothing in sight calculated to upset things. The Supreme Court has classified the Trust situation
so that the great captains of industry
may shape their course and do pretty much the same things legally they have been doing illegally.

There are not likely to be any radical changes one way or the other, so the
"big fellows" have left us for a while.

A Wall Street authority issued the following recently: Total interest and dividend payments for June, 1911, at approximately $80,000,000, including payments on all classes of stock and the interest falling due on bonds of every description. This compares with $85,- 000,000 in June, 1910, and $80,000,000 in June, 1909.

Dividend payments will total about $34,000,000, classed as follows: Railroads, $9,147,058; industrials and miscellaneous, $22,746,552; electric railways,
$1,704,061; New York city bonds and trust companies, $210,000.

Interest payments will amount to approximately $43,000,000, distributed thusly: Railroads, $25,980,000; industrials and miscellaneous, $7,701,000; electric railways, $5,768,000; New York
city bonds, $225,000; all other cities,
counties and States in the United States
$3,351,000. There are no government bonds in which interest payments are due in June.

The estimate of interest payments
is based on $387,052,870 railroad bonds, $310,867,000 industrial and miscellaneous bonds, $242,963,000 street or electric railway bonds and $150,363,000 state
and city bonds (exclusively of New York city).

Estimate disbursements for the current calendar year thus far, compare
as follows: January $211,000,000; February $85,000,000; March $118,000,000;
April $138,000,000; May $103,000,000;
and June $80,000,000.

The best tonic for the Wall Street
man who finds himself becoming chronically pessimistic is a trip West or South. Let the banker or broker who can see nothing but discouragement
ahead jump aboard a train and stay
on it until he has put two or three thousand miles between himself and the floor of the Stock Exchange.

He will then discover that the worries
of Wall Street do not bulk largely in the daily round of the people. He will find them healthy, happy and going

about their daily vocations with zest.
Every man he meets will impress upon him how that particular locality is forging ahead and how the fertile west
is to overshadow the East by and by.

If the Wall Street man tries to emphasize the seriousness of this, that nine men out of ten are very little concerned over the fluctuations of stocks.
In fact he will feel humiliated to learn
that his daily doings are given no thought out there. But he will see inspiring proofs of progress on every side
and he will return to New York feeling that it is a privilege to belong to such a country. And should Reading or Steel decline a point or two one day and rise
as much the next, he will reflect that after all this will not stop the wheels of industry or cause the sun to stop shining.

The Chesapeake & Ohio, Norfolk &
Western and Virginia are planning to make Hampton Roads, Va., the greatest coal port in the world, taking the supremacy from Cardiff, Wales, which has been in the van for over a century. Last year between 12,000,000 and 15,000,000
tons of soft and hard coal were handled
at Cardiff, while Hampton Roads, with three distinct piers at Lambert's Point, Sewall's Point and Newport News, maintained by the three roads, handled a grand total of $9,520,818 tons.

Coal operators in Southwest Virginia
and West Virginia are planning to pool their interests in the European and Pan-American markets. Selling agents
will be stationed in Europe, and will act
jointly for the miners of the Norfolk district. The roads will also place a fleet of coaling vessels in commission,
sailing under the American flag and carry coal into the market now reached by the Welsh mines.

Formal arrangements have been completed which will mean the building of piers at Sewall's Point at a cost of between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000.

That ubiquitous instrument the short-term note, is to be used to save another corporation. Missouri Pacific, instead of trying to sell bonds, will start off by issuing not more than $25,000,000 three year notes. As the rate of interest is to be 5 per cent, no difficulty should be faced in finding purchasers. By the end of three years it is hoped that the property will be in such shape that either
long-term obligations will be salable on reasonable terms or notes will be negotiable at a lower rate of interest. It will be recalled that Speyer & Co., the new bankers for Missouri Pacific, utilized notes quite freely in rescuing the Trisco system from the financial demoralization into which it was falling.

Notes can be sold when a bond would be positively tabooed. Wall Street has been speculating on how the funds necessary for the rehabilitation of the Gould system would be provided: Speyer & Co. have promptly supplied the answer. The usefulness, the adaptability,

the charm of the short-term note are apparently inexhaustible.

Two diametrically opposite views are held by bankers concerning the future of the money market. One contention is that New York has received such sums from other places that it will be unable to pay them later in the year,
especially as speculative requirements
are increasing, business demands are likely to expand, new financing in volume will have to be met and gold sent to Canada. The other view was thus expressed by the head of a very prominent institution: "We cannot find borrowers for our funds. We wish we could. We will not lend under 2-1-2 per cent, but that is not an unreasonable figure. We have no fears whatever as to the monetary outlook. Speaking for this institution and at least one other,
we could meet every possible demand
with the greatest of ease. Fortunately,
general trade is very quiet and probably will not be active before fall. It is, therefore, impossible to induce the best mercantile houses to lay in large supplies of money. We ourselves have bought all the trustworthy paper offered us and could buy more; our holdings are the highest in our history. Nobody need feel alarmed over the money market now or in the near future.

Figures compiled by the telegraph department of the Canadian Pacific show that the road leads all the American railways in point of the number of miles
equipped with telephone train dispatching circuits. It has 3,955 miles equipped or 74 miles more than its nearest competitor, the Santa Fe. The Soo Line, a subsidiary, has 190 miles, which added to the Canadian Pacific proper gives a total of 4,140 miles.

Marriage is sometimes a failure because the wife is suspicious, and sometimes because she isn't.

A girl's first love affair should qualify her to write an essay on the happiness of being miserable.

There isn't anything in the world so easily contaminated as good intentions.

"CASCARETS" SPLENDID FOR ELDERLY FOLKS

The Rules for Old People is—One Cas-caret Daily. The Bowels, Like Other Muscles, Grow less active With Age—
They Need Help.

Most old people must give to the bowels some regular help, else they suffer from constipation. The condition is perfectly natural. It is just as natural as it is for old people to walk slowly.
For age is never so active as youth.
The muscles are less elastic. And the bowels are muscles.

So all old people need Cascarets. And most of them need them daily. One might as well refuse to aid weak eyes
with glasses as to neglect this gentle aid to weak bowels. The bowels must be kept active. This is important at all ages, but never so much as at sixty.

Age is not a time for harsh physics.
Youth may occasionally whip the bowels into activity. But a lash can't be used every day. What the bowels of the old need is a gentle and natural tonic.
One that can be constantly used without harm. And there is no matter of choice here. The only such tonic is Cascarets and they cost only 10 cents per box.

PARTIES EVEN IN THE HOUSE

Possible For Senate to Elect Next President.

SUCH CONDITIONS UNUSUAL

Probability of Strong Independent Candidates Next Year Makes These
Surmises Interesting—Tariff Debate Between Bailey and Williams Would Be Worth While.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, June 9.—(Special.)—

The present United States senate may have the opportunity to choose the next president of the United States.
It will require a train of circumstances, but everything is so arranged that the final method of selecting a president provided for in the constitution may be invoked.

Should there be independent candidates who would receive a sufficient number of electoral votes to prevent either of the regular party candidates
from having a majority of the electoral college then the election would be thrown into the house of representatives. But the house of representatives could not elect.

Naturally with sixty-five majority
for the Democrats in the house it would be assumed that the dominant party had a majority of the state delegations. Such is not the case. When an election goes to the house each state has one vote. On this basis
there would be twenty-two votes for the Republican candidate, and in three states the delegation would be equally divided, which would prevent an election by the house, as the constitution says the man must have a majority of the states.

Where the Senate Comes In.

The same section of the constitution
which provides for a presidential election by the house says that if the house fails to elect by March 4 then
the vice president shall be president.
If the electoral college fails to choose a vice president, which would be the case if a president was not chosen,
then the senate elects the vice president, who becomes president on March 4 if the house does not elect.

It is very seldom that a situation is such as to make the occasion ripe for giving the election to the senate. Very seldom is the balance between the states in the house so even that neither party has a majority of the states by delegations.

The possibility of the senate choosing the next president has been discussed because many politicians believe that there is a probability of one
if not two very important independent candidates next year.

Would Be Worth While.

There are men who admire both Joe Bailey and John Sharp Williams who hope to see them in a battle royal in the senate over the tariff. It would be worth while. They are both Democrats, both born in Mississippi, but they belong to different schools of tariff revision.

Williams is for a reduction of the tariff on anything; Bailey does not believe in taking the tariff off any raw material unless it is also removed from the manufactured product. Bailey opposes piecemeal reductions; Williams
will take reductions wherever he can get them, hoping for more another time. Bailey is strong in his views, and Williams is not less imbued with his ideas. It would be a great debate.

Maine Ousts Oregon.

"If I wished to farm, raise stock and fruit, I know of no better locality in the United States than Maine," said a witness before the finance committee.
The members became interested, especially when Senator Johnson of Maine asked a few questions about apples.

"Are your apples superior to Oregon
apples?" asked Senator Clark.

"Oh, yes," replied Johnson. Then Senator Gallinger followed it up with assertion that if New England gave
the same attention to fruit raising as Oregon she would have the world beaten in the quality of apples and other fruit.

What surprised the committee was
the fact that Maine had Oregon beaten in the quality of apples. Oregon
has had the name for the best apples
for years.

"News of the White House."

"Here's your news of the White House," announce the keepers of the capitol press galleries upon the arrival of a well known newspaper man with typewritten slips of what is given out to the newspaper men at the White House each day. He is the White House press agent.

Several departments of the government have regular press agents, and why not the White House, which has become the greatest news center of the executive branch of the government? How times have changed! Years ago every newspaper man hustled
after his news in every department and every bureau. Executive orders have closed every avenue of news in the departments save the secretary, and he has not time to give
out the news, so a press agent does it for him. It's always the kind which the department wants, which is not always satisfactory to the news gatherers.

For Tweed Cloth

GRAY and black tweed would look exceedingly smart made up in this style. It has the skirt
made with a wide box plait down
center of front and trimmed below
knees by a band of material cut on the cross and edged with black velvet ribbon.

The Russian coat has slight fullness
in front, also on basque; a braided band is worn round waist, and tabs to match trim the fronts, while a strap to correspond with skirt is taken down
edges of fronts.

Hat of felt is turned up at the sides
and trimmed with two quills, kept in position by a buckle. Velvet ribbon encircles the crown. The whole producing a very chic appearance.

Materials required: Six and one-half yards tweed 46 inches wide, nine
yards ribbon velvet, four yards braid,
twenty buttons, seven yards silk or satin for lining coat.

Woman's Beauty

Some women retain their beauty to an advanced
age. But women, who regularly endure pain, age rapidly, for suffering leaves its lasting marks on them.

Nearly all women suffer more or less with some form of female trouble. It should not be neglected.
Avoid the pain—treat yourself at home by taking
Cardui, as thousands of other women have done.
Begin at once and give Cardui a fair trial.

TAKE CARDUI

It Will Help You

Mrs. Katie Burlison, Goreville, Ill., tried Cardui and writes:
"I suffered with female troubles, and was so sick I could not stand on my feet. Finally I began to take Cardui, and soon began to mend. Now I am able to do all my housework and am in much better health than I was before." Try it.

AT ALL DRUG STORES

The above cut is self explanatory and is printed at the request of the building committee of the Greensboro Young Men's Christian Association building in the hope that it will make a personal appeal to those who have not paid their subscriptions to do so. This cut was made some days ago and the building is much nearer completion than is shown by the photograph.

The contract calls for a completed building on August 1 and it also specifies that the contractors shall receive payments at regular intervals. The final payment on subscriptions is due on July 1 and the building committee hopes that the entire amount of the funds will have been paid in by August 1, so the contractors can be paid in full as soon as the building is accepted.

DOYLE'S BUNCH GOT ONLY FOUR HITS IN CONTEST YESTERDAY

Eldridge's Wildness Largely Responsible For Anderson's Victory Over Patriots—Score Was Five to Two.

The second game of the series went to Anderson by a score of 5 to 2, but as the Twins lost also Greensboro is still at the top of the percentage column. The Patriots and Electricians will play the third game of the series at Cone park this afternoon at 4.30 o'clock.

Eldridge's wildness was the principal element of the defeat of the locals yesterday. He gave four men bases on balls, and at least three of the runs were due to these. The contest was devoid of features, yet interesting at times on account of the close score in the first half of the game.

Wolfe did the twirling for the visitors and got revenge on Doyle's men for what they did Thursday. He permitted only four hits during the game, and in the last four innings did not allow a Patriot to get to first.

"Jimmy" Poole, who was a member of the Greensboro team in the North Carolina league in 1902, was in the game yesterday. He is with the team temporarily and is playing in right field while Carroll is recovering from a split finger. Poole is pleasantly remembered here by many fans, who applauded him when he went to bat yesterday. "Jimmy's" fielding average yesterday was perfect, not a single ball going anywhere in right garden during the game. He fanned twice and popped out his other time at the bat.

"Fan Food" from Winston Journal.

It's postponed our time of leaving Greensboro, but it hasn't postponed the flag raising next season.

Greensboro wants too many. We want only those to which we are entitled, that's all we play.

One of the Patriot's homegrown men

gone, the Greensboro bunch do not play

up local so fearfully strong after all.

Still contend that the Hornets ought to be in vaudeville; lot of the comedians

wasted.

Watch the growth artists break into the Sally league. Wonder if they'll support the Sally by their attendance.

We pick but one winner at a time—

that's first, last and all the time, Winston-Salem.

No, we didn't get ours from Forsyth.

Sent off for them, for there has never been a team in the Carolina league that was as good as the Twins now are.

Can Rube win all the time? We think

not. And Tony has already lost one or two. If Morrissey weren't going so good we'd predict a rather bad slump for some one soon.

Greensboro folks—if they run the

talked of excursion to the Twin City

on the seventeenth—will not only see

their team liked, but will have a chance to see a good town.

Was the Greensboro auditorium sold

to get the wherewith to buy some more

ball players? The answer is not yet,

but there'll be some needed in that rural village before long.

Anderson's stay in Greensboro will be decidedly better for the bottom team's percentage, but we seriously doubt

whether there'll be any further pleasure

in it.

Togo Bentley has gone to Charleston,

instead of to Macon as before stated

by the papers on the circuit. Togo

ought to slip in a three-bagger now and

then that will make the Charleston

fans feel good.
